Harding College will present its eleventh radio program of the series of broadcasts this afternoon from 3:30 to 4:00 in the college auditorium.

Outstanding speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. G. C. Brewer, lecturer from Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Brewer's speech will be a discussion of some modern phase of everyday problems.

The girls' glee club, consisting of thirty voices, will sing "Bells of St. Mary's." The group is under the direction of Mrs. Florence Fletcher Jewell. Deronda Byrd, soloist from Senath, Missouri, will sing "Bird's Song at Even Tide," and Mary Agnes Evans, piano soloist, will play "Malaguena" by Leucona.

Hobart Jones, from Morrilton, Arkansas, will be the guest soloist for the afternoon. Mr. Jones will sing "Big Bass Viol" and another number of his own selection.

A new flash, giving the highlights of the news on the campus, will be given by Jack Bomar, publicity director for the college.

Featured on last week's program were the selections sung by Tommie Jean Davis and Kenneth Davis. Soloist for the program was Mrs. Cyril E. Abbott. Dr. Cyril E. Abbott, professor of biology, gave an interesting lecture to conclude the program.

The program this afternoon is under the direction of Mr. Leonard Kirk and will be announced by Jack Wood Sears.

Dr. and Mrs. Green Visit Harding Enroute For Europe

Dr. and Mrs. William Green were visitors at Harding on December 17 and 18. Dr. Green is a member of the faculty of the University of California and a member of the Church of Christ in Berkeley, California.

The Greens stopped here enroute to New York from whence they sailed January 4 for Europe. Dr. Green plans to conduct research work in patristic literature while touring foreign countries in this, his sabbatical year. He will spend the greater part of his time in Paris but will tour Italy, Germany, and possibly Palestine as well as other countries. Mrs. Green's sister and brother, Nell and Sherman LaNeir, are graduates of Harding. At the present Sherman is a member of the David Lipscomb High School faculty.

Life Of Being A Twin Revealed By A Twin

"Hi Bill, are you Buck?" "Which are you, Bill or Buck?" Now how would you like to have these remarks thrown at you no less than fifty times every day? I admit it might be a little bit different to be just half of a whole, but I can't prove it, for I never knew how it feels to be otherwise. I had a person to ask me once, "How do you know that you are you and not the other one?" Well, its not any different than how do you know that you are not your brother or sister. Some people still can't understand that.

Still, in spite of the cross questions and SENSIBLE answers, there is a lot of fun mixed in with being a twin. Sometimes on the football field a pass is thrown to you instead of the other one or visa versa. This is a lot of fun, especially when we are on opposite sides. Then one time when one of us wanted a date, we sent the other one after it. I still laugh when I think of the time he had explaining everything I said in getting that date. But, still it was quite successful, I think? ? ?

All through school life, even up to the present history class under Brother Rhodes, we have worried the teachers more than their worries about salaries. When they ask one of us a question they look at both of us, and we look at each other and the one that knows the answer is the one to speak up. I remember once in high school the other one walked out of study hall without permission and the teacher came boiling up to me afterward, "clouded up and rained all over me" about it. I readily took the blame and agreed with the teacher, offered my apologies and smoothed the matter over as well as I could. That's one good deed in my favor. To this good day, that teacher doesn't know that he "rained" on the wrong one.

Still, since we are rather bashful, there is considerable embarrassment involved in the process of being a twin. Often at parties we become the topic of conversation to which we usually begin talking about the weather. You can imagine how embarrassing it becomes at times. Once I recall I was trying to study in a quiet secluded place, as the Bison office, when a girl rushed in and began to apologize for something I didn't know about. Before I could explain, she had already explained, and so I had quite a time explaining.

Now as to our mother telling us apart, there is no question. "Mom" has no trouble in this matter. She always knew which one to spank for the mischief done, but Dad sometimes gets us mixed. I still believe I came out on the wrong end of those.

There is no end to these experiences like I have related, so since my girl can tell his girl from him . . . no, can tell herself from his girl . . . no, can tell me from . . . oh, well, I'm going to quit before I get myself mixed up with someone else. I wonder who??

Davidson Speaks At Church Services Sunday

Mr. Clinton Davidson from Jersey City, New Jersey was guest speaker in both morning and evening services of the church worshippin in the college auditorium last Sunday.

At 11:00 A. M. Mr. Davidson's theme was "The Bible Way of Love," in which he discussed the different methods employed by church of Christ preachers in the preaching of the Gospel. Mr. Davidson said that preachers should devote their efforts toward the filling of the great commission as delivered in Matthew 28:18, 20 rather than to the "exposing of error" such as "some few but loud" preachers of the church are accustomed to doing.

In the evening services at 7:30, Mr. Davidson spoke on "The Great Cloud Of Witnesses." He said that he could not conceive of a child of God having a lack of courage or confidence in anything that he might undertake to do what is right. To explain what he meant, Mr. Davidson quoted Hebrews 12:1 where Paul says, "Therefore, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses—saying that the "witnesses" are the victors of faith Paul enumerates in the preceding chapter.

Mr. Davidson also described the new "Christian Leader" that has just recently come off the press in Cincinnati.

NEW BOYS' CLUB ORGANIZED LAST WEEK ON CAMPUS

Pix Club To Be Led By Healy, Rowe, and Fulkerson

A new boy's social club was organized on the campus, the Pix, last November 7, 1938. The club selected Mr. Homer Howk, college photographer and printer, as sponsor. Don Healy, freshman from Fort Collins, Colorado, was elected president; Doniphan Rowe, sophomore from Searcy, was chosen as vice-president; and Raymond Fulkerson, freshman from Owensboro, Kentucky, was elected sergeant at arms. Other charter members of the group are Clarence Perry, Nathan Walsh, and Tulon McRight.

With Mr. Howk as sponsor, the group chose the name "Pix," a slang photographic word as their name. The club emblem carries out the scheme of photography by having a camera as a background with the letters PIX on it.

Armstrong Speaks On Church Radio Program Sunday

Dr. J. N. Armstrong spoke on the subject of "Saved by Grace" on the weekly Sunday morning church radio program from the college auditorium.

Dr. Armstrong in his talk emphasized the fact that sin is a most dominant force in this world, and that it is bringing about destruction. God has provided a plan whereby all who desire may be saved. He further stated that individuals are saved by the goodness of God through their own faith. The reward for a life of worldliness is death, while eternal life awaits those who maintain faith. The Church of Christ is made up of people who are faithful. Each individual Christian is sanctified—set apart from the world to render glory to God.

S. F. Timmerman led the prayer. The songs rendered were "The Garden of Prayer," "Jesus Calls Us" and "Thou My Everlasting Portion." The singing was under the direction of Leonard Kirk. Those who assisted in the singing were: Mrs. Jewell, Miss Holler, Mrs. Cathcart, Pauline Moser, Lavonne Thornton, Lamar Baker, William Sanders, Charlene Bergner, Hugh Rhodes, Vernon Boyd, Fletcher Floyd, Lee Lambert, Rogers Bartley.

Mock Wedding Plans Halted

Pattie Cobb Hall was the scene of one of the most dramatic episodes in the history of the school late yesterday afternoon. The plans had been made weeks in advance, even to the procuring of printed marriage license. But all plans were kept secret until the last minute. The event was the mass weddings (nearly) of Miss Verle Craver to Mr. Lowe Hogan, Miss Glendene Barrett to Mr. Fletcher Floyd, and Miss Dorothy Bixler to Mr. Vernon Boyd.

The brides were lovely, appropriately dressed for the occasion in smart sport costumes.

The time for the ceremony approached. Officiating Bill Medearis stood ready to perform the ceremonies. The brides were at their places. The grooms waited lined in a row. Then softly the strains of Here Comes the Brides, played by Miss Wallana Floyd, floated out over

Bison Printed In College Shop

Beginning with this issue, The Bison will be printed at the college print shop. This move has been delayed due to lack of equipment in the shop. Several installations had to be made before the shop was able to do the work.

The work is under the supervision of Mr. Homer Howk, college photographer and printer. His staff includes Doug Harris Houston Itin, Murray Wilson, Quentin Gately, and Bill Alexander.

Raymond H. Fogler Will Lecture Here January 20

Mr. Raymond H. Fogler, vice-president of Montgomery Ward and Company, will be the eighth in the series of business executives of national reputation to be brought to Harding in the special lecture program. Mr. Fogler will speak in the college auditorium at eight o'clock on January 20. His subject has not been announced yet but is expected to follow the theme of the lecture-ship.

Mr. Fogler has made his own way up through the hardships of life to the position he now holds. He is a warm friend to education, realizing that efficient training is essential to business success. He is also intensely interested in the ideals and aims of Harding College, and appreciates the character building work being done by the institution.

Writer Asks Students To Buckle Down

1938 has left the stage of the present and wedged itself in behind its successors, taking with it the merriment and gaiety of another Christmas season.

Before school dismissed for the holidays, every student was bubbling over with the Yuletide Spirit and the thought of spending Christmas around the home hearth. But after Santa has completed his circuit and the rich pastries and candies have done their overtime work, the spirit rekindles. Students come in as quickly as they left with renewed vigor to get back into the regularity of the school life.

Many students have perhaps brought back with them New Year's resolutions. We haven't heard much about them but then it's perhaps a bit early yet—wait till they start going on the rocks. Brother Benson stated in one of his chapel talks (quote): I resolved to be on time on every occasion this year. (unquote). One student remarked that if he intended to carry it out he might secure himself a stop watch. That's the wrong attitude, though most resolutions are made to be broken because it's so much fun to tell about the tragedy to others. The girls especially get a particular thrill out of it. It doesn't quite demand a place with operations, relatives, and other old dependables but it has a very prominent place during its particular season.

Old Saint Nick has retreated to his arctic home (or anarctic depending on which hemisphere you live in). He's so far north that the Eskimos' igloo is a Southern hut to him. Just because he has just left us and the stockings no more hang from the fire place don't push the thought of Christmas way back in some dusty, spider-webbed chamber of your cerebrum. Remember there are only 298 shopping days left till Christmas!

HARDING COLLEGE LECTURE SERIES NOW IN PROGRESS

Brewer, Dekker, Hall Will Appear On Programs

A. Hugh Clark, minister of the Union Avenue church at Memphis, opened Harding's Special Bible Short Course Tuesday morning, January 3, and delivered his last sermon Saturday morning, January 7.

While here Mr. Clark complied with an invitation to speak in the Prayer Meeting service at the downtown church and to speak before the Missionary Forum in the college auditorium. In addition to his preaching, he taught a special class after chapel on "The Local Preacher and His Work."

Beginning today G. C. Brewer, minister of the Church of Christ at Lubbock, Texas, and a man of wide experience, will be here for ten days in a series of lectures. Dr. J. N. Armstrong predicts: "He will present the truth in a positive, courageous manner, but with an appeal that grips the heart." Mr. Brewer will deliver a sermon each day in chapel and teach a special class immediately following the chapel period. His subjects for the ensuing two weeks in the chapel period are: "Totalitarian State and Religious Freedom," "Social Security and Spiritual Security," "Marriage and the Home," "Divorce," "Christian and War," "The Church," "Sectarianism," "Premillennialism," "Providence," "All Things Work Together for Good to Those Who Love The Lord," and "The Lord Is My Shepherd." The subjects of his lectures at 10:30 are: "Science and Religion," "Evolution—It's History," "Evolution—The Present Status," "Evolution—The Evidence Considered," "Evolution—Enigmas," "God His—The Proof," "What Thing Ye of Christ?", "The Resurrection," "Paul—The Miracle," and "The Canon—How Determined."

From January 15 to January 19 Mr. Brewer will also deliver a sermon each night beginning at 7:30 o'clock, in the auditorium. "Augustinianism and Calvinism vs. Pelagianism," "Grace," "The New Birth," "Pentecost—Its Meaning," and "Pentecost—The Coming of the Holy Spirit" are his subjects for these meetings.

January 23 to January 28, Floyd Dekker of Gladewater, Texas, who will be featured as the third speaker of the series, will speak on "Personal Evangelism."

Following Mr. Dekker, S. H. Hall will return to the campus for the next two weeks to speak on The Church and It's Program.

In addition to lectures and sermons by these visitors to our campus, J. N. Armstrong will lecture daily on "The God of the Bible" and teach a class on sermon building; L. C. Sears will instruct a class in Practical English; and George S. Benson will lecture on "World Religions and Church History."

Hugh Clark Speaks To Missionary Forum

At the regular meeting of the Missionary Forum Thursday night, Mr. A. Hugh Clark, of Memphis, Tennessee, spoke. His subject was taken from the first chapter of Romans, in which he emphasized the importance of every Christian's paying the debt which he owes the world. Billy Yont led the singing.

There was a better attendance at this meeting of the Forum than at any within the last two years. Maurice Hinds, chairman of the Forum was in charge of the meeting.

TO THE EDITOR

Last week during the chapel lectures I noticed something which I believe needs correcting. It was the constant coming in or leaving the auditorium during the lecture. Those men who speak in this series of lectures are naturally handicapped for the lack of time and with a constant interruption of their speeches and the detraction of the listeners' attention it makes it very hard on the speaker as well as the audience.

These men come from quite a long way off to be here to preach for us and they spend time preparing those sermons for our good and it must be very discouraging to them when those boys and girls to whom they are speaking very nonchalantly get up and walk out in the middle of the sermon.

These chapel services are not long and it seems to me that at least most of us can spare time enough to listen to these splendid lectures without leaving the room. We are not children any more, you know we are in college, supposed to be grown up.

When you leave you not only cheat yourself out of hearing an excellent sermon but it is very unfair to your neighbor who may be interested in what the speaker is trying to say by detracting his attention when you leave.

The administration has gone to quite a bit of trouble to bring these men here for our good. Let's cooperate with them and be courteous and respectful to these men when they are trying so hard to help us. It might pay us in the long run.

WHAT IS A GOOD SPORT

A "good sport" is a chap who does not growl and grumble and offer alibis when he gets beaten, but gives sincere congratulations to his opponent for playing a better game.

He is a chap who does not try to corner all the good things of life for himself, but is glad to let others have a chance at some of them, and to share with others those that do come his way.

He is a chap who does not insist upon having his own way all the time, but is willing to join in what the other fellows want to do sometimes.

He is a chap who is not afraid of competition, but rather welcomes it, that he may be spurred on to do better than he has ever done before.

He is a chap who will not take unfair advantage with the plea that he just happened to get "the breaks," but will often give up even a fair advantage in order that the other fellow may have a fair and sporting chance.

But the chap who joins others in questionable pursuits or bad habits, or goes with them to places of unsavory reputation, just to show them that he does not consider himself "stuckup," or too good for them, is not being a good sport, but is just being plumb foolish!

MEDITATIONS

By Mabel Dean McDoniel

As one of the nicest things about visiting is getting home again, so one of the nicest things about a holiday is getting back to the old routine. I've had one of the grandest times ever and now it seems good to settle down again to the quiet calmness of the plain old everyday schedule.

If the lectures continue to be as interesting and inspiring throughout the course as they have begun, my attention will not have to be solicited. And six weeks will not seem half as long as it sounded at first.

My thought tends toward seriousness as the old year becomes a part of the past and 1939 begins with a fresh hope, greater intentions, and new ambitions. Yes, I believe the beginning of a new year a very good time to make a fresh start. Is there something you have failed in before? Then attack it again and make it this time your success.

New Year's resolutions are very good things, if kept. And if they are made with a feeling of determination, some of them will be kept. I hope every student has made some and if you haven't, make these with me:

- To be more interested in others—and show it.
- To take up something new and learn it thoroughly.
- To be more attentative listener.
- To think more.
- To cultivate the art of friendliness.
- To help others in every way I can.
- To live less for the unimportant, and more for the greater purposes.

Professor Gardner says some very philosophic things in his classes. An occasional bit of philosophy is dropped in the course of a lecture, but if one isn't alert, he doesn't grasp or realize it as such. Especially interesting was his meditating that our lives become cloistered with trivial everyday events—happenings of no consequence save for the present, that pass swiftly and leave no mark in passing—that we lose sight of any purpose in life except today's worry, ballgames, or hit songs. The future becomes blurred and strangled by the very insignificance of the present.

Backstage

BY SIDNEY HOOPER

A newspaper man once said that he would starve for the first fifteen years if it took it for him to be a journalist. Last night I saw "Dramatic School," in which the leading role is played by a girl who aspires to be a great actress.

In order to stay enrolled at the National School of Dramatic Arts, she worked in a gas meter factory every night from ten until six. Before her always was the goal of being a great actress. Her idol was her teacher, Madame Charlot, who had been a great actress of few years before. In spite of snubs and insults at the hands of Mme. Charlot, the girl worked desperately for her chance. Then her chance did come: she succeeded beyond her every hope and expectation.

One thing that particularly impressed me was the spirit of the girl, who dared all to attain what she desired—and her desire was to be able to help people who saw her play to forget their petty difficulties and problems and be moved by her portrayal of living characters.

First rehearsals of the music groups on the campus after the holidays were very promising and indicative of good programs for the remainder of the school years.

About eight new members have been added to the chorus this term. New plans for the year include "The Soldier's Chorus" by Faust.

A program for a more extended repertoire for the Men's Glee Club begins with a new arrangement of Ben Jonson's "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." This arrangement for male voices has been made by Mary Agnes Evans especially for the glee club.

A humorous serenade by Joseph Hayden, several Negro spirituals, and a medley of old folk songs arranged by Leonard Kirk will be among the new selections added this term.

Deronda, Byrd, soprano from Senath, Missouri, will be spotted this afternoon on the radio program. She will sing "Bird's Song at Eventide" and "Without a Song."

Heard also on the program will be the girl's glee club under the direction of Mrs. Florence Fletcher Jewel, singing "Bells of St. Mary's." Mary Agnes Evans will play a piano solo, "Malaguena," by Lecuano.

"Without Benefit of Reno," written by Mrs. O. M. Coleman, is to be one of the next plays to be given by the Campus Players. Cast in the leading roles are Bill Medearis and Mrs. Oral Cone, who played together in "The Bird's Christmas Carol."

The play is a study of the divorce situation in America and has a clever plot development.

The recent motion picture "Suez" deals with one of history's most interesting chapters.

We wonder today why both the Suez and Panama canals were not built much earlier. The need for both of them must have been apparent long before either was dug. Politics, of course, was the retarding factor in each instance.

The British let the French build the Suez canal and then obtained control of it. They let the United States build the Panama canal and then dug up a forgotten treaty giving them special privileges in the use of it. Clever folks, those British. They get along.

According to tradition there is a commemorative tablet at Panama bearing this inscription, "The earth was divided and the world was united."—A little masterpiece of succinct truth.

Archelaus was asked by a prating barber how he would like to be trimmed. He replied, "In Silence."

TAKING A STAND

One of the most serious weaknesses in the church of the Savior today is the failure of many to take a stand. And this failure is accentuated by the fact, that according to the teachings of God's word, it is impossible for anyone to occupy neutral ground when it comes to religious matters. Christ said, "He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathereth not with me scattereth." Again he taught, "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." In the light of these teachings, it is surprising and regrettable that many are trying to be "neutral" on many religious and moral matters.

If I were listing some reasons why people are averse to taking a stand on one side or the other, I think I should say that either they are ashamed of the ground they supposedly occupy, or else they are afraid to stand firmly on it. In either case, a man, in justice to himself and in justice to those who do have convictions concerning these things, ought to throw away such shames and fears, or pull up his stakes and move to the other side. This is the only honorable thing to do, and he would at least be more respected by those who cherish the views for which he refused to stand.

Hardly anything is more despicable than to see a person trying to play both sides of an issue. Christ said of Christians who tried it that he would "spew them out of his mouth." I wonder how great would have been such men as Noah, Elijah, Joshua and Caleb, had they been so diplomatic that no one could tell where they stood. I wonder how much space God would have given in His word to Stephen and Paul had they been willing to compromise the principles of truth to maintain their popularity or friendship with those who were teaching contrary things. The courage of these men to stand, and many times to stand alone, for their convictions should be an inspiration and an encouragement to us to be as daring. The church needs such men today.

Paul pleaded, "Be ye steadfast, unmovable," and, again, "having done all, to stand." Surely there is a lesson here to those who have refused to stand for the truth and the principles of right, and to those who have been in sympathy with such practices as this and other forms of evil. Until I am willing to "take a stand" and to tell the world about it, I will be worthless to the cause of Christ. You will be, too.

Herd Opposes Teachers Here Saturday

BERRYHILL SEES HARD GAME FOR BISONS

The Harding College Bisons resumed practice last week in preparation for the game with Arkansas State Teachers, to be played here Saturday night in the Searcy High School gymnasium. Since both Harding and Teachers are rated among the outstanding teams in the Arkansas collegiate circle, this game will further determine who will have the best chance for the championship in the A. A. U. tournament.

Considerable offensive strength and scoring punch was added to the squad when "Red" Garrison enrolled for the winter term. Garrison starred at Beebe High School and Southwestern University of Memphis as a forward mate to Gaylon Smith, outstanding athlete at Southwestern.

The Herd has a clean record thus far in the season. They have won five games with no losses. Teams that the Herd have defeated include R. C. B. D. Independents at Little Rock, Bethel College of McKenzie, Tennessee, Arkansas College, of Batesville, last year's state champions, Viola Independents of Viola, and Beebe N. Y. A. Camp at Beebe. Only in one game have the Bisons failed to score over 50 points, that being Arkansas College, when they defeated the defending champions 44 to 42. The Bisons have scored 294 points in five games for an average of 59 points per game, compared to the opponents tally of 181 for an average of 36 points per game.

A strong reserve, lacking on the previous Bison squads, has been built up, which allows the offensive power never to weaken. Bill Bell, Ordin Copeland and "Toar" Pryor, sophomore, and Jack Lay, "Tige" Carroll, "Ziggy" Sears, Otho LaFevers, freshmen, make up this important part of the team.

Swimming Pool Cleaned And Repaired

During the Christmas holidays the swimming pool was drained, cleaned, and refilled with fresh water.

The draining of the pool also afforded an opportunity to mend some pipes that had previously caused some leakage in the pool.

The pool is now open to swimmers, and the schedule is the same as that of last term.

HERD VICTORIOUS OVER BEEBE NYA FIVE AT BEEBE

Second Five Sees Action In Over Half Of Game

Playing their fifth game of the season, the Bisons defeated the Beebe N. Y. A. team 63 to 25 last Saturday night in Beebe. The Bisons took the lead at the beginning, and were never threatened by the weaker Beebe team.

With the second team playing the entire first quarter, the Bisons led the N. Y. A. team 11 to 4 at the end of that period. Bill Bell was the prominent scorer in the first period with six points. The same team started the second quarter, but were relieved by the first team during that period. The score was 29 to 6 in favor of the Bisons at the end of the first half.

Coach Berryhill substituted frequently during the last half with every man on the squad having an opportunity to play. The Bisons led at the third period 37 to 8. Both teams scored frequently during the last quarter, the Bisons scoring 26 points during the period to 17 for Beebe.

"Nubbin" Roe led the scorers with 12 points and was followed by Gasoway, forward for Beebe, with 9 points. Four Bisons tied for third scoring honors with 8 points each. These men were "Red" Garrison, Bill Bell, Junior Carroll, and Otho LaFevers. Ordin Copeland made his first appearance for the Bisons this year in this game. Copeland, a reserve from last years squad, has been unable to play because of a knee injury received early in the fall. "Red" Garrison also returned to the squad, having enrolled for the winter term.

BISON SPORTS

FIVE IN A ROW

The Bisons have gotten off to a good start this year, having won five straight games and lost none. They beat R. C. B. D. Independents of Little Rock, Bethel College of McKenzie, Tennessee, Arkansas College of Batesville (Last year's AAU champions), Viola Independents, and Beebe NYA of Beebe.

This is what anyone could call an impressive record. And what's more, the Bisons are going to keep this record. They probably won't go through the season undefeated, but they will have a very impressive record when the season is over.

They may fall off Saturday night because they are playing against one of the strongest teams in the state. If several of the players are "off" we will get beat. Let us hope that they will beat. Let us hope that they tire team would rather beat Arkansas Teachers Bears.

"RED" GARRISON

The Varsity squad has been considerably strengthened since Christmas by the addition of "Red" Garrison to the squad. "Red" first gained recognition in Arkansas athletics by starring in basketball at Beebe High School. From there, he went to Southwestern University in Memphis Tennessee, where he lettered three years in basketball and football.

"Red" is a classy forward with a one handed shot that piles up plenty of points. He is a good floor man and can hold his man to a low score, it he scores all.

Since the holidays, Ordin Copeland has been added to the squad. Copeland was a reserve on the squad last year. He was out of the line-ups the first part of the year because of an injury to his knee, received while playing football last fall. Ordin is over six feet and is a good man on anyone's team under the basket.

RECOGNITION

The Harding Bisons are beginning to get some recognition among the other teams in the state and the newspapers of the state. They haven't gotten as much as they deserved in the years gone by. But this year, they are recognized as one of the State's leading teams, and they are getting better write-ups in the papers. Sunday's Commercial Appeal said that the game Saturday night with Arkansas State Teachers College would be the best game of the week in this state. They were right, and next Sunday they can write up that Harding beat ASTC the night before.

OPPONENTS OUTSCORED

The Herd has badly outscored their opponents thus far this season. The Bisons have scored 297 points in five games for a game average of 59.40 per game. Harding's opponents have only scored 159 points against the Bisons. Thus, the Varsity has outscored the opponents 138 points, or almost doubled them.

Roy Roe Is High Scorer For Bisons, Making 16 Points

In the final game before the Christmas holidays, the Bisons defeated the Viola Independents at Viola 62 to 48. This was the first trip of the year on which the Bisons stayed over night.

Viola went into the lead during the first quarter and led the scoring 12 to 10 at the end of the period. Harding soon overcame the two point margin and at the end of the first half, the Bisons were leading 24 to 20.

The first half was closely fought, with the Bisons having the edge on scoring. The first half of the game was faster and more exciting to the spectators than was the last period.

In the third quarter, the Bisons and the Viola five fought on almost even terms with the Bisons further advancing their lead. The score at the end of the third period was 40 to 34.

In the final period, the Bisons scored 22 points while the Viola team was scoring 14 points.

High scorer of the game was H. Sears of Viola, who scored 24 points.

The scoring honor for the Bisons went to Roy Roe with 16 points. Carroll was next with 14 points and Watts was third with 12 points.
